CURRENT GOSSIP OF THE TURE Narrow Escapes of Guttenburg

Jockeys.

Narrow Escapes at Guttenberg. Three jockeys had a wonderful escape from death at Guttenberg yesterday. Their horses went down in a heap on the far turn and the jockeys fell under them. The accident hap-withdrawal of a number of the competitors. pened in the first race. Postmaid and Rocket were running close together, when suddenly the here who cannot draw an honest lesson from the former went down, throwing young Leigh to the hard earth with stunning force. Jim Nor-vell, with Griffin in the saddle, stumbled over the prostrate Postmaid, and Doc, with Why-burn riding, piled on top of the pair. Doc the prostrate Postmaid, and Doc, with Why-burn riding, piled on top of the pair. Doc struggled to regain his feet, but failed, and rolling over fell again upon the uncon-scious Whyburn, pinning him to the earth. Not one of the boys moved and the spectators believed that they had been fatally injured. They were conveyed to the jockey room and Drs. Byrne and Becker carefully examined them. Griffin's shoulder was bruised and his them. Griffin's shoulder was bruised and his eye cut and blackened. Whyburn's face was cut and bruised. Young Leigh escaped almost without a scratch. Whyburn was taken seriously ill a little later in the day. He was bleeding internally and the physicians had him re-moved to St. Mary's Hospital. The race was won by Rocket. The accident gave him a clean lead and he was never headed. His cdds were 12 to 1. The pleasant weather drew a large crowd to the track and the betting was heavy on every event. The racing was fair and the track in excellent shape.

May Meet in Boston

A day or two ago the Boston Athletic Association wrote to the leading officials of the Amateur Athletic Union that it would be delighted to have the union hold its annual meeting in their house. The date stipulated for the meeting is February 11. The Boston A. A. has arranged to hold its open games on that date, and would be overjoyed if the delegates to the meeting would be their guests at the games and then deliberate in the evening. The directors of the union haven't accepted the invitation Base Ball Pickups. Cleveland expects a great deal of Pitcher Schellerman.

Chattanooga will sell tickets good for thirty games for a $10 bill. The Beston boys are dropping in one by one and signing their contracts.

University of Illinois has fifty applicants for its base ball team. E. K. Hall of Dartmouth College will coach the team.
Pittsburg has signed Denny Lyons.

Duffy will begin to coach the Brown Unisalary limit it is being broken.

Al Maul, once of the Pittsburgh club, is now proprietor of a grocery store in Philadelphia.

"Lefty" Marr has been heard from. He is out in Denver arranging a pool series for the amateur championship of Colorado.

A gymnasium will be hired and active spring practice will be taken by the Cleveland team there under the eye of the captain of the team. Comiskey intends to hold on to Pitcher Daub.

Daub doesn't want to sign with the Cincinnat team unless given some assurance that he is no to be a bench warmer. Chris Von der Ahe, president of the St. Louis club, has notified Manager Watkins to report for duty on March 1.

weaken if the other team is a few runs ahead. It's to be hoped "Chap" isn't "jollying" the Wagners with the local managership in view.

The outfielder wanted by Clevelandis claimed by New York, so that if the New York people insist on keeping the young player Cleveland will not get him. The man in question is young McQuaid, who last season played in the Stockton team of the California League. He is a brother of Umpire McQuaid.

Elton Chamberlain, Buffalo's base ball pitcher, says he will not play with the Cincinnati National League team next season if he can help it. The climate does not agree with him there, and he will try to play with either New York or Philadelphia.

Starters in the American Derby. The entries to the American derby to be run at Chicago originally numbered 325 and Secretary Brewster expects that there will be at least 125 declarations on February 1, and 100 more when the April declarations are due. In spite of this fact the San Francisco book has marked "full" against the names of Cadmus, Fidelio, Guenoc, Ingot, Picton, Wanyshett and the Khartoum Hop colt, none of which would seem to have an earthly chance in the race, though they have been backed to the limit of the San

The hairman stated the object of the meeting was to take steps to aid the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric Railway Company to pass their bill now before Congress to construct a bridge across the Potomac river from Arlington to Washington.

Jas. E. Clements said there shouldt a bridge at this point, that his company was willing to construct one for their electric road, that they would build a passageway on this bridge for pedestrians and vehicles free to the public. He said the whole country, from Maine to Cali-fornia, was interested and wanted this bridge to afford cheap and rapid transit from the na-tion's capital to Arlington and to Mt. Vernon. He said he was sorry to see the attitude of Georgetown in opposition to what he described as of national importance. He quoted from a report in The Evening Star of last Friday, of report in THE EVENING STAR of last Friday, of statements made by a Georgetown delegation before the District Commissioners opposing the construction of any bridge from Arlington to Washington. to another, as her friend raised her arm until the immense puff of her velvet sleeve was on a level with her head, "we don't shake hands in the air any more. At present this ceremony is performed very low down; the arm is held rather stiff and the hands meet as near the knee as possible. The clasp is the same, as is also the shake. Wait until we reach home and I'll give you an object lesson in the new way of kissing," she continued.
"I learned it at school, but not from a book, however; our principal taught us, and she for-bade the girls to salute each other except in the prescribed manner—that is, a kiss on either cheek. While your lips are touching your friend's right cheek hers are taking the powder off your left, and vice versa.

"It's very pretty, very foreign and dignified and requires time and practice in order to accomplish it gracefully; besides, it's more satisfying than a hit or miss salutation that alights sometimes on the chin, sometimes on the tip of the nose, but which was meant to reach the mouth."

WOULD NOT TELL A LIE. A Convicted Thief Who Had Profound Respect for the Truth. From the Chicago Tribune.

The New York police have just captured a man who, although he has been a thief by instinct and profession for the last thirty years, is yet too honest to lie. George Afflick is the name of this curious makeup of paradoxical qualities, and his arrest may be of special interest to Chicago people because of a singularly unique position he occupied in the Chicago police force way back in the sixties.

For almost seven years be was a familiar figure about police headquarters, where, although his nominal position was that of porter, he was generally recognized as one of the smartest men on the force. All the old timers rememmen on the force. All the old timers remembered him and his escapades among youthful criminals, not so much because of his success in running them down, but for the reason that he had a remarkably strong bent for "con" work and petty thieving himself, and people in his old home were always in danger of receiving an unexpected visit from him which was sure to bring no good to them.

He finally left his position here and went to New York. There he commenced his criminal career, and, being an expert in catching crooks, he had little trouble in evading detection. The Chicago detectives remembered him as one of the smoothest men in his line and have always watched his movements.

But although Afflick has been a thief by instinct and profession for the last thirty years he still seems too honest to lie.

"What is your business?" was asked of the prisoner by a New York police sergean?

"I steal for a living," was the frank and cool answer. After confessing to having served tarms in various penitentiaries he was asked the question:

"Were you ever engaged in an honorable calling?"
"Yes, sir," came the answer, "from 1860 to

Before the angel of death finally relieved the ex-jeweler of the incumbrance of his soul, and the two had taken flight to the misty portals of the hereafter from whence none cometh back, he murnured once softly, as though to himself, or answering some one unseen: "Yes, I named it myself. She stood there holding out her arms and screaming, while her head was drawn nearer and nearer to the fatal wheels, Then up came a man with a sharp jackknife. He compassed the hair of the girl within his left hand and held it firmly as he might a rope and with the other hand severed the hair close

Where Rats are Prized as Scavengers. From the Atlanta Journal. A man just from New Orleans savs there is one peculiarity about that city which is never talked about. "It is," be said, "a city of rats. New Orleans is below the river bed, and it is at all times low and damp. The city is not clean, and large wharf rats multiply in the business portion of the city in great numbers, and the pests swarm about in droves. The people of New Orleans contend that the rats are good scavengers and help to rid the city of refuse matter. I don't think there is a city in the world, not even New York or Paris, that has as many rats to the square mile as New Orleans."

people in America. If not, listen cripples to usefulness, stops pains and gives health to what Mrs. Annie Jenness Miller, It scarcely seems credible that such marvelous re sults can be obtained from so simple means as the laying on of hands, but the cures that are performed great dress reformer, says: "Six speak for themselves.

Drs. Fritz and Damon have many strange expe riences. One day last week, while quite a number of patients were waiting, an old lady came into their office, hobbling in on crutches, scarcely able to ascend the steps which lead to their door. While relating her tale of suffering one of the doctors stepped into the room, and, hearing her complaint, he made a few passes over her body and limbs, then took her crutches and threw them into a corner, telling her at the same and threw them into a corner, telling her at the same time to get up and walk, which, much to the surprise of all present, the did. She swung her arms, stamped her feet, looked herself over, and exclaimed: "Be-fore God, I am cured." The doctor told her that she fore God, I am cured." The doctor told her that she could go home; that she would never need her crutches arain. To say that there was excitement among that little group is putting it mildly indeed. Capt. George E. Sente came to the hall on crutches from rheumatism of eight years' standing, was nearly helpless—by one treatment he left the hall carrying his crutches over his shoulder, returning to his home, walking without any difficulty.

Mrs. A. M. Boyd, an old lady, was cured in public, before the audience, of a very severe case of lumbage and kidney disease. She left her crutches with the doctor.

health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history Mrs. Alston was cured of dyspepsia and liver disease.

Mr. Henry Wagoner of Georgetown, a gentleman of seventy years, who had been deaf for a long time, has had his hearing restored so that hecan now hear the ticking of his watch.

James Henderson, a great sufferer from dyspepsia, after only one treatment can now eat anything which comes on the table without distress.

Mrs. Hannah Staple, a cripple from rheumstism. wought by her husband, walked out entir overed.

Hundreds of people have been cured in public besides the great army that have received private treat-ment at their hands. Anybody who has any doubt of their power to heal need only go to the hall and see

STRANGE ADVERTISEMENTS.

I have been amaged at the statements made by some credit houses claiming that they sell goods on time as low as any cash house will sell same article. This is trifting with the intelligence of the public, as the most ignorant of our people know that to buy on installments means about double our prices for cash. I have found that no ad, pays unless it inspires confidence in the readers, and it must not carry with it any doubt as to the writer's ability and intentions to do what he claims. We advertise because we believe our ass, are read, and we are just as careful to state absolute facts at if you were looking at the goods and making a purchase.

We are in business for the profit, at the same time we do not consider it all of life to get a dollar. We do business right or not at all. Try to buy these goods anywhere at our prices and open your eyes to the fast that as house in Washinarton will meet them. Solid Oak Extension Table, 6 ft., $3.95.
